

warden@leadbellydesign.com
(202) 355-5152

2009 PBS pbs.org
~ present Front-End Developer

Designed, developed, customized and themed WordPress solutions for Kitchen Explorers, Crafts for Kids, Adventures in Learning and PBS Parents producer sites. Created responsive HTML5/CSS3 templates for internal PBS product, Bento. Updated and maintained station logos. Designed and implemented Producer Exchange site on Confluence. Designed print ads for SPI and Education departments.

2009 NPR npr.org
~ june Production Designer

Cut and color corrected graphics for the 2009 NPR web site redesign.

2006 leadbelly design leadbellydesign.com
~ present Owner/Freelancer

Freelance studio offering HTML/CSS and design services including expertise in WordPress theming.

Clients:

N.h Design (WordPress themeing)
OpenTable (WordPress themeing)
Media Barn, Inc.
Manheim Auto Auction
Being Wicked, LLC (WordPress themeing)
A.S.K. Learning/Symantec
Bright Egg (WordPress themeing)
Bravo Group (WordPress themeing)

2003 PETA peta.org
~ 2006 Sr. Web Designer

Conceptualized stand-alone web features, including the creation of wireframes. Worked on the redesign of large sites, and took the lead among other designers on CSS and Web Standards by creating organizational standards SOPs.

Other duties included the maintaining of 70 web sites and creating audio and video for the web.

jen huls

front-end dev / visual designer

skills

Coda, Textmate, Dreamweaver

Hand coding CSS(3)/HTML(5) compatible IE8 and standards-compliant browsers

WordPress

Adobe Photoshop

jQuery/JavaScript

Adobe Illustrator

Zurb Foundation/WordPress Reverie Framework

“Jen is the Front-end Developer that every Designer dreams of. Her attention-to-detail and extreme skills to match a flat mock is beyond my comprehension. Jen is a hard worker and keeps herself updated with the latest technologies. She is never short of ideas and works very well with the team.”

Valli Ravindran, Former Creative Director, PBS